

Product Overview

A Rowanmoor Defined Benefit SSAS is an occupational pension scheme designed for employers who want to maximise the provision of pension benefits for directors and key employees in a given year. The Rowanmoor Defined Benefit SSAS differs from most other SSASs by providing a defined level of scheme pension for members at normal pension age instead of defining levels of contributions prior to taking benefit.

This leaflet is designed to give a brief overview of the features of the Defined Benefit SSAS. For more details of Rowanmoor's products and services please call our Sales Support Team on 03445 440 550, or visit our website www.rowanmoor.co.uk.

Members' benefits

A member's benefits may be taken (known as crystallisation), in whole or in part, at any time from age 55. When a member takes benefits from the scheme, and at age 75 if benefits have not been taken, the capital value of their annual pension from the Defined Benefit SSAS, calculated by the scheme actuary, and any other pension arrangements they have, will be tested against the current lifetime allowance.

Pension commencement lump sum, based upon the scheme pension payable from the Defined Benefit SSAS (approximately five times the accrued pension), calculated by the scheme actuary, but limited to a maximum of 25% of the lifetime allowance, tax-free.

PLUS

Pension, subject to income tax, which may be taken in the following ways:

- scheme pension;
- lifetime annuity.

Member dies before taking benefits

A defined benefit lump sum death benefit up to the lifetime allowance paid tax-free before the member is age 75. From age 75 all lump sum death benefits are taxed at the recipient's marginal rate of income tax.

If the beneficiary is not an individual, for example a trust fund or a company, a 45% tax rate will apply.

In addition, subject to the member's benefit schedule, a dependant's pension can be paid.

The dependant's pension is subject to income tax and benefits may be taken as follows:

- a dependant's scheme pension;
- a dependant's annuity.

Member dies whilst taking benefits

A pension protection lump sum death benefit, calculated by the scheme actuary, paid tax-free before the member is age 75. From age 75 all lump sum death benefits are taxed at the recipient's marginal rate of income tax.

OR

A dependant's benefit can be provided as outlined in the section 'Member dies before taking benefits' above, following payment of any remaining guarantees.

If a member dies having only taken pension benefits from part of their fund the death benefits payable can be a mixture of those outlined above.

Notes

Schemes that breach the investment rules, make illegal payments, or pass assets or liabilities to connected parties outside of the rules, will be subject to a tax charge or penalties from HMRC, or both.

In some cases, capital gains tax or value added tax may be payable on the transfer of an asset in specie. Always check with an accountant before an in specie contribution is made. In specie contributions may incur stamp duty.

All transactions must be commercial and at arm's length and in most cases independent valuations will be required.

Loans to the principal or participating employer must be secured with a first charge against assets of equivalent value. Secured loans may also be made to third parties but it is not possible to make loans to the member trustees or anyone connected to them. This means that a Defined Benefit SSAS established by a self-employed business owner may not lend money back to their business.

Before making a contribution or transferring benefits to a Defined Benefit SSAS always refer to your financial adviser as any protection of existing benefits may be affected.
